MESSAGE FROM
His Holiness
POPE FRANCIS

Today the path of peace, which Saint Paul VI called by the new name of integral development, remains sadly distant from the real lives of many men and women and thus from our human family, which is now entirely interconnected. Despite numerous efforts aimed at constructive dialogue between nations, the deafening noise of war and conflict is intensifying. While diseases of pandemic proportions are spreading, the effects of climate change and environmental degradation are worsening, the tragedy of hunger and thirst is increasing, and an economic model based on individualism rather than on solidarity sharing continues to prevail. As in the days of the prophets of old, so in our own day the cry of the poor and the cry of the earth constantly make themselves heard, pleading for justice and peace.

In every age, peace is both a gift from on high and the fruit of a shared commitment... each one of us can work together to build a more peaceful world, starting from the hearts of individuals and relationships in the family, then within society and with the environment, and all the way up to relationships between peoples and nations.

I wish to propose three paths for building a lasting peace. First, dialogue between generations as the basis for the realization of shared projects. Second, education as a factor of freedom, responsibility and development. Finally, labour as a means for the full realization of human dignity. These are three indispensable elements for "making possible the creation of a social covenant", without which every project of peace turns out to be insubstantial.

Dear brothers and sisters...I renew my thanks to all those who continue to work with generosity and responsibility in the areas of education, safety and protection of rights, in supplying medical care, in facilitating meetings between family members and the sick, and in providing economic support to the needy and those who have lost their jobs. I continue to remember the victims and their families in my prayers.

To government leaders and to all those charged with political and social responsibilities, to priests and pastoral workers, and to all men and women of good will, I make this appeal: let us walk together with courage and creativity on the path of intergenerational dialogue, education, and work. May more and more men and women strive daily, with quiet humility and courage, to be artisans of peace. And may they be ever inspired and accompanied by the blessings of the God of peace!

MESSAGE FROM His Grace
MOST REV. GABRIEL 'LEKE
ABEGUNRIN

The starting point, the core and end point of the Catholic Church’s social teaching is the dignity of the human person. This teaching emphasizes that we all are created in the image of God and therefore have inherent dignity and worth. This dignity is not based on a person’s race, gender, social status, or any other external factor.

For this reason, every person has fundamental rights that must be respected, defended and protected. Beyond this, the human person, especially the poor and underprivileged among us, must be supported and assisted. To this effect, the Church emphasizes the importance of the common good, redistributive justice and the well-being of all.

Notably, this is Christ’s mandate; the care of all, especially the least among us. The actions of Christ in the Gospels showed his concern to raise poor humanity from its lowly state to its proper dignity. It is in keeping with this mandate, throughout the course of her history, and particularly in the last hundred years, that the Church has concerned herself with the questions of peace, justice, equity, development, and human life in society. Pope after popes continue to expound on these Christian principles and Bishops, in every part of the world, in their various dioceses, continue to carry out actions on behalf of justice.

Quite unfortunately, our country is still particularly plagued with a lot of social issues. Thankfully, Justice Development Peace Commission (JDPC) in Ibadan is deeply committed to the integral development of the human person, the common good, the wholeness of man, and the realization of a more balanced and peaceful society. For us in Ibadan - Nigeria, JDPC has become the wing through which the local Church addresses all matters of justice and development.

I cannot end this piece without expressing heartfelt gratitude to all the stakeholders, especially the staff and partners of JDPC Ibadan. I am especially grateful for all your efforts, commitment and unwavering support towards our programmes and projects. Your contributions have enabled us to provide essential interventions, implement initiatives, and have helped us to significantly achieve our mandate.

We acknowledge that without your timely interventions, many of our projects would not have been possible. It is through all of your contributions and the good efforts of JDPC staff that we make a significant difference in the lives of the people we serve and have helped to create a better future for our society. Even as we thank you, we look forward to continuing our partnership in advancing our mission. God bless you all, Amen.

MESSAGE FROM

REV. FR.
JEROME
AJAKAIYE

It is with great joy and delight that I present the annual report of the Justice, Development and Peace Commission (JDPC) Ibadan for the year 2022. The year happened to be a unique one, as the ground work for the General Election for 2023 is ongoing. Both the political parties and the citizens were in high spirit in anticipation for the contest towards a new Government. JDPC, Ibadan played very prominent role in awakening the consciousness of the people of Oyo State towards their civic responsibility with particular reference to active participation in the forth coming electioneering process.

The impact of JDPC was greatly felt in the State and its environs through her many programmes and interventions. The Democracy and Human Rights programme (DHRP) among other achievements continue to train paralegals to be able to administer a first aid 'justice' in their local communities. These efforts of the paralegals have helped in restoring peace in situations that ordinarily could have led to long hours in police custody or an expensive and long court case.

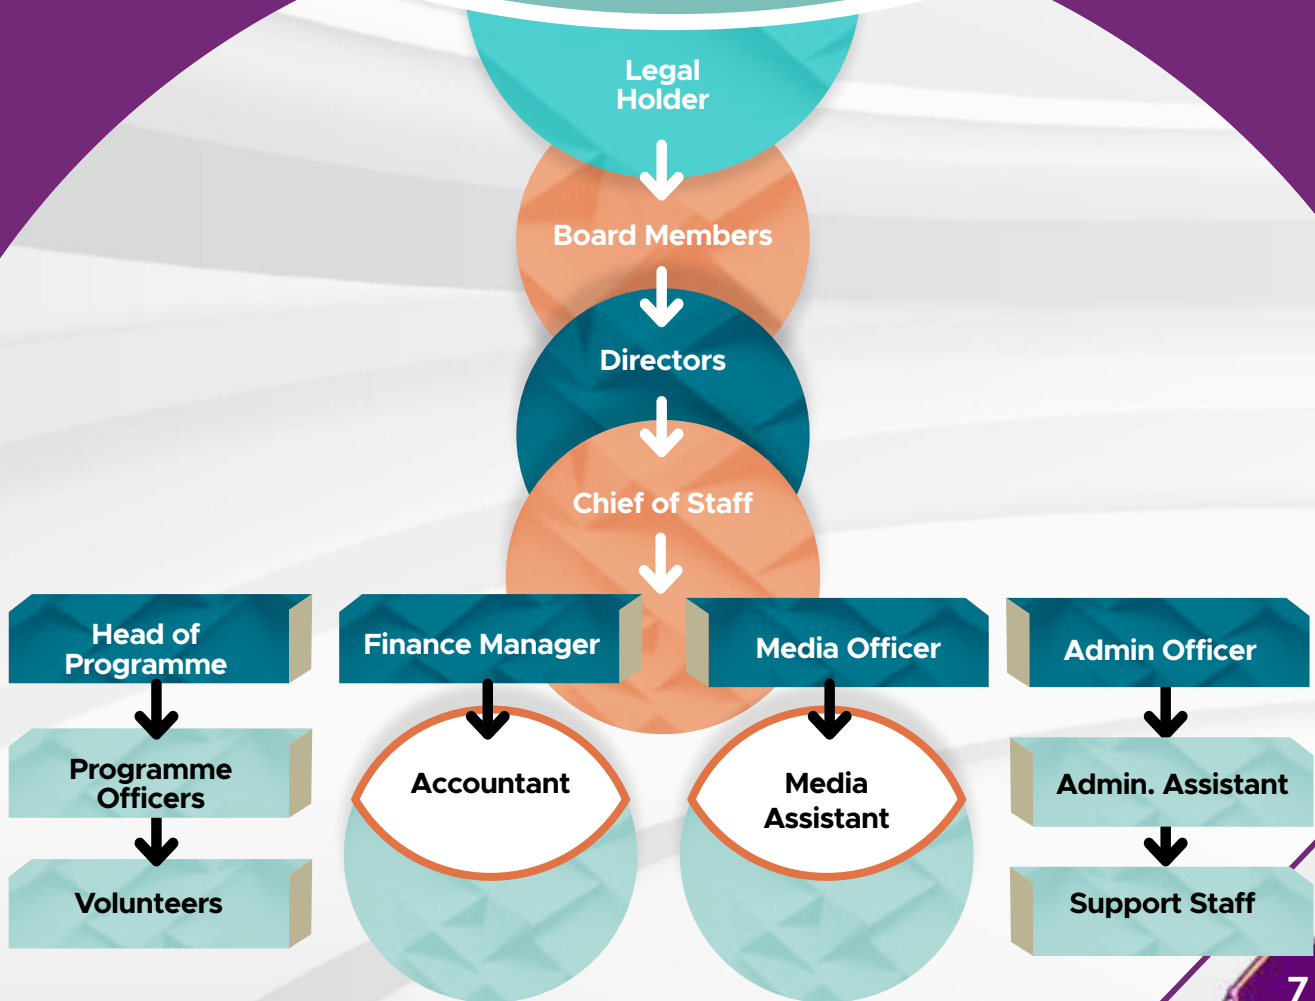

The Commission also made great strides during the year through the various civil coalition groups in holding duty bearers accountable with regards to better primary health care service delivery in communities. As a result of capacity building offered, People living with disabilities are more conscious than ever about their rights as members of the community. The growing population of our correctional centers have been stemmed by our success with the Community Service as Alternative to Imprisonment Programme. Over 900 minor offenders who could have been added to the numbers in Abolongo and Agodi Custodial Centers have been granted community service. We have continued to provide free legal services to indigent inmates awaiting trials and these efforts have been greatly rewarded with the reintegration of several inmates with their families. Our Caritas programme embarked on sensitization and awareness creation on the dangers and ills of Human Trafficking in Oyo State. In the course of the year, they also embarked on awareness creation on the need to protect the environment. These efforts would not have been possible without the support of Misesan Cara and Conrad Hilton Sisters through the Religious Sisters of Charity.

In our world today, the effect of climate change and global warming cannot be overemphasized. These effects can be felt in food production by the farmers as the climate continues to be unpredictable, thus disrupting the normal planting circle that farmers have been accustomed to. However the Integrated Development Programme (IDP) of JDPC, Ibadan have continued to build the capacity of farmers on best agricultural practices to mitigate these problems and produce fresh and organic food healthy for human consumption. The IDP has also made deliberate and conscious efforts to facilitate peaceful coexistence between the Fulani cattle herders and the local farmers in our ecclesiastical jurisdiction.

I am greatly humbled by the impact of JDPC, Ibadan is making in Oyo State and beyond through the various programmes. The successes recorded this year as highlighted in this report would be impossible without the contribution of our partners, active participation of our stakeholders and my ever diligent Members of Staff who sacrifice their time, energy and even their lives in the cause of discharging their duties.

We sincerely appreciate the Oyo State Government, her agencies and departments for the collaboration enjoyed in the year under review. I express my profound gratitude to the Archbishop of the Catholic Archdiocese of Ibadan and the legal holder of Justice, Development and Peace Commission, Ibadan for his fatherly role and guidance which has made JDPC what it is today.
God bless you all. Amen.

Agricultural Value chain

IDP Engages Youths in Agricultural Value chain

Twenty -three (23) youths have been successfully engaged into the Youth in Agriculture Initiative. The initiative of the JDPC is targeted at unemployed youths with the aim of creating employment, sustaining food security and promotion of agribusiness in the catholic archdiocese of Ibadan. The engaged youths were taken through series of capacity development in the chosen area of agribusiness, supported with technical backstopping by the programme and identified mentors and resource support.

In 2014, Mrs. Seun Ogundele, a young woman whose business background was in fashion designing, returned from Abuja. Against her expectation, her fashion design business was badly affected as it could not be sustained because of her relocation.

In 2019, through her landlady who is a catfish farmer, she became interested in aquaculture business after several visits to her landlady's farm. Oluwaseun was fascinated with the swimming rhythm of the fingerlings in the pond. This aroused her interest in aquaculture. However, with limited resources, she started the aquaculture business. Though, it was tough for her to start because of the limited resources at her disposal.

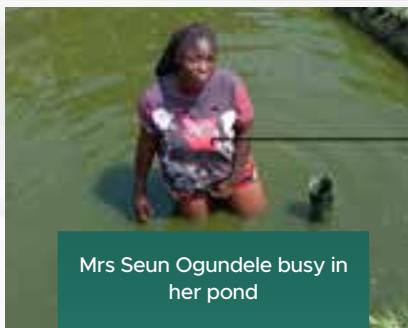

Oluwaseun joined the YIA (Youth in Agriculture Initiative) in 2019, and went through the necessary training and mentorship programme. Immediately after the training and mentorship program, Oluwaseun rented an earthen pond and stocked one thousand (1000) fingerlings. At the early stage of the first cycle, her inexperience in aquaculture made her to experience high mortality rate. But, her doggedness and passion enabled her reinvested in the business with adequate mentorship and supervision.

Now standing firm, the Integrated Development Programme...

...(IDP) facilitated her membership to the Olosun Alapo Fish Farmers Association where she was exposed to cooperative scheme which paved the way for her to access the revolving feed input from a sister project for business expansion.

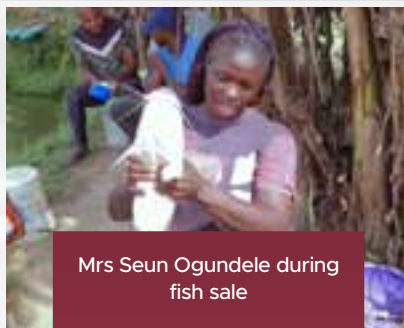

In 2021, Oluwaseun became the treasurer of the association because of her total commitment to the activities for the success of the association. She is also a key ambassador of the Youth in Agriculture Initiative of the Integrated Development programme.

SUCCESS STORIES

As a result of Oluwaseun's outstanding performance and commitment to IDP programme, she won an award as the "BEST YOUTH IN AGRICULTURE OF THE YEAR" at the 2022 annual farmers forum organized by the Sustainable Farmers Association of Nigeria and facilitated by the Integrated Development Programme of the Justice Development and Peace Commission

Currently, Oluwaseun owns two ponds with the carrying capacity of more than three thousand fishes. She also serves as mentor to other farmers in the catfish production business. She consults for those who are interested in starting catfish farming.

Oluwaseun Ogundele, is now empowered to contribute significantly to her family upkeep, finances her rents and now has the plans to buy her own pond. According to her, "catfish are like babies to me and I take care of them with passion"

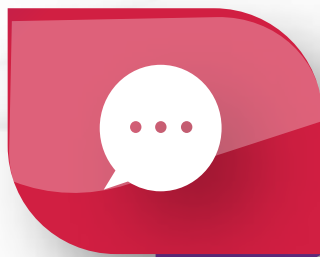

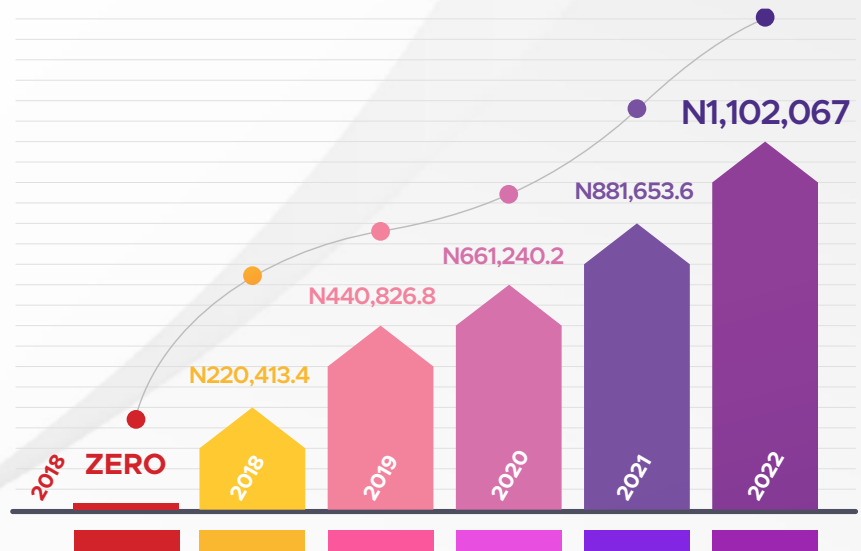

Raising Capital Base

Sustainable farmers' Association Raises CAPITAL BASE

The Apex farmers group of the Sustainable farmers Association of Nigeria (SUFAN), facilitated by Justice Development and Peace, commission, Ibadan has raised its capital base from zero level in 2018 to One million, one hundred and two thousand, sixty-seven Naira (N1,102,067) in 2022.

This development has empowered the association to commence credit advancement to her zonal members for agricultural activities.

AGRO SERVICE

This is an initiative which was birth as a result of the series of capacity building and planning initiatives facilitated by the Integrated Development Programme to ensure agro service delivery by the farmers to members and non members.

CREDIT INSTITUTIONS

Farmers in the past have complained about the inaccessibility of credit from credit institutions, because of the unending bureaucracy and the inability to provide the necessary collateral securities.

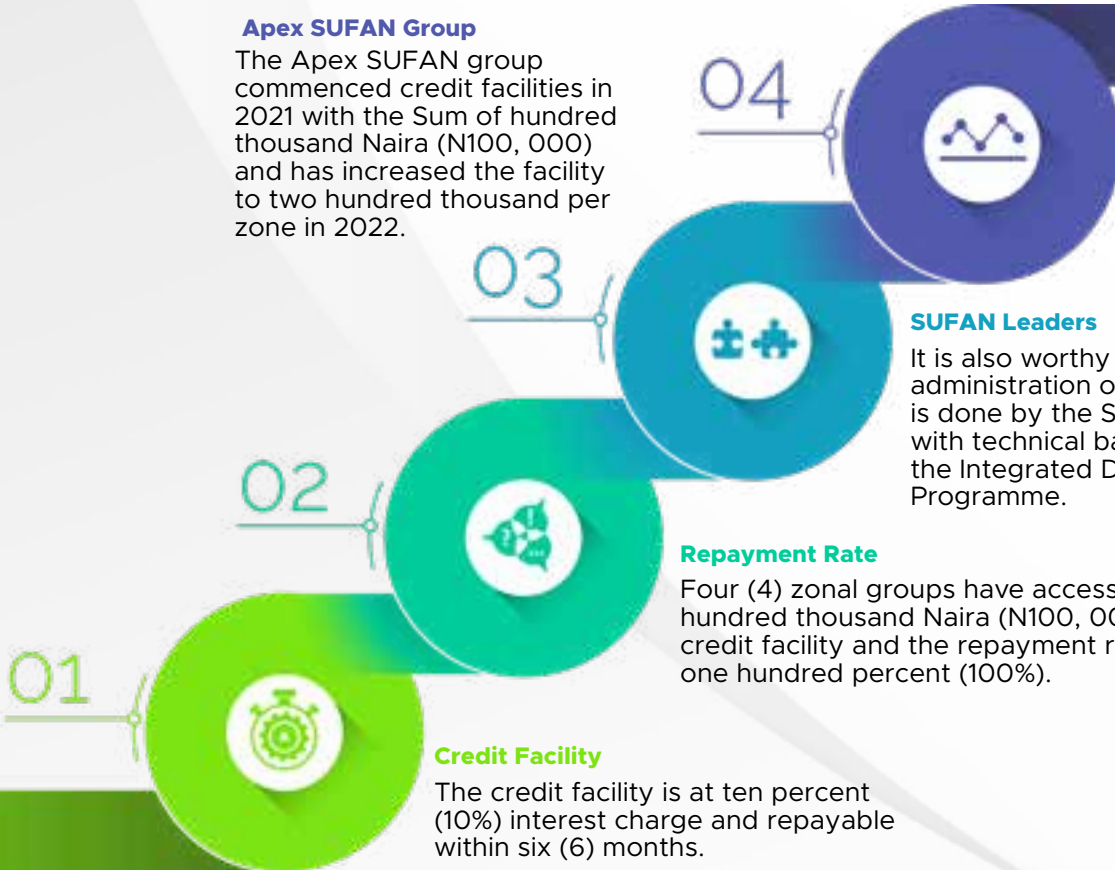

AGRO SERVICE

The organized farmers group started building its capital base from zero level so as to commence agro service delivery in 2018 through zonal investment. The capital received over the years was invested in agricultural produce marketing, provision of agricultural inputs such as seeds, simple farm tools, agrochemicals and sprayers to members and non members. The group has been able to reach more than three hundred people.

Apex SUFAN Group

The Apex SUFAN group commenced credit facilities in 2021 with the Sum of hundred thousand Naira (N100, 000) and has increased the facility to two hundred thousand per zone in 2022.

INCREASE SCOPE OF PRODUCTION

Catfish Farmers Increases Scope Of Production From 1,000 Fishes To 4,000 Fishes

One thousand, two hundred (1200) small scale catfish farmers in Oyo, Osun and Ogun states of Nigeria under the Catfish Sustainability Project funded by Skretting Nigeria Limited have had their productivity improved. The farmers who are formed into different groups were supported with capacity development, technical and advisory services and input supply (catfish revolving feed input) to boost production.

Two farmers, Messers Akintayo Solomon Oluremi and M.O. Adewunmi belonging to the Obalagbe fish farmers group, Ayegun - Olomi Ibadan increased their scope of production from one thousand (1000) fishes to four thousand fishes (4000)

FARMERS EXPERIENCE

Messers Akintayo Solomon Oluremi and M. O. Adewunmi of Obalagbe fish farmers group have been in catfish farming business for more than a decade and practicing the conventional fish farming, with little or no regard for the environment, quality of fish produced and record keeping.

2021 MOBILIZATION

In 2016, they were sensitized about the catfish sustainability project. Though, they were of the opinion that adopting best management practices is unrealistic and not profitable. Following the success recorded by other farmers' groups in the project, they were encouraged and mobilized into the project in 2021.

STOCKING THE POND

In the second half of 2021, the duo stocked their earthen pond with one thousand fish (1000) each, adopting the best management practices (proper planning, feed and feeding techniques, sorting, water management etc) championed by the catfish sustainability project.

They were adopted into the mainstream of the project where they received the necessary capacity development, advisory services, monitoring and feed revolving input for better productivity.

Integrated Pest Management

Ninety-three (93) Farmers adopts "IPM" for environmental sustainability

Ninety-three farmers out of the two hundred and ten (210) trained farmers under the sustainable farmers association (SUFAN) have adopted the use of local herbs and botanicals rather than the synthetic agrochemicals to promote environmental sustainability.

Following the capacity building programme on Integrated Pest Management (IPM) organized by the Integrated Development Programme, there was a demonstration of the use of the local herbs and botanicals carried out at different farmers group meetings. Farmers who showed interest in the adoption of IPM were closely monitored for proper application and usage.

This innovation aims at producing neat and safe food for public consumption and to guard against food insecurity that often results in loss incurred by the farmers caused by pest and diseases. Recently, farmers have been experiencing the infestation of pests and diseases on their cocoa and cowpea farms which has resulted into yield and income reduction.

After the demonstration of the “IPM” to farmers, Mr. Ojediran Abiodun resolved to the use of local herbs and botanicals as recommended by the integrated Development programme. After the application on his farm, he testified to the potency of the organic pesticide on black pod disease of cocoa and aphids in cowpea.

Mr. Ojediran Abiodun, a 52 year old farmer of Elere Adeogun community has been practicing Agriculture alongside his Father since he was a boy. He is a farmer that cultivate crops such as; cocoa , citrus , cassava, yam, maize and cowpea.

BOTANICAL USAGE

Using the botanical did not only reduce his cost of production by forty percent (40%), it also promotes safe environment, biodiversity and reduced toxicity caused by the use of synthetic pesticide to ensure safe food.

Mr. Ojediran Abiodun through his testimony and results, has also influenced member of his group Agbelere farmers' group at Elere Adeogun to make use of “IPM” on their farms.

The National Association of Organic Agriculture (NOAN) is looking to collaborate with the farmers' group for Organic Cocoa production.

CARITAS DESK

The year 2022 was very eventful for the Caritas team. We left no stone unturned in positively reaching the people of God through our various projects. We catered for the inmates' welfare, attended to the needy, brought peace to homes in conflict and enlightened Oyo populace on the issues of abuse of minors and vulnerable adults, human trafficking, climate change and care of our environment.

CARITAS Programme covers the following:

Programme Goal

That all may realize and appreciate the image of God in them and thus live positively, spread the positivity around and bring about the promotion of the kingdom of God.

Strategies

Agodi Inmates' Welfare

The CARITAS service delivery to the inmates of the Agodi Custodial Centre during the year 2022 was with no sense of complacency, unrelenting and impactful. The impacts include the following:

+ Spiritual Renewal

The inmates had the opportunity of some spiritual renewal through our encounter with them during the year as seen below;

// The celebration of the Mass on Ash Wednesday marked the beginning of lent. It was an enriching experience for the inmates who attended the Holy Mass. It equally marked the official reopening of the Agodi Custodial Centre for spiritual services; after it had been on hold since the 2020 COVID 19 lockdown.

// Subsequently, the inmates had Stations of the Cross; it was a moment of deep reflection on the passions of the Lord and a call to repentance.

// Spiritual upliftment during Eucharistic Celebration took place on 17th April, and every Sunday of the month from the month of November to December 2022. Over 100 inmates were spiritually nourished.

General Welfare of the inmates

We provided some of the basic needs of 345 inmates, through the financial and material support of some generous individuals and groups.

+ Inmates' Linkages

We were able to keep some inmates connected with their families, friends and lawyers. The linkages were as follows:

// We kept 194 inmates connected with their family, friends, and lawyers.

// 122 inmates' families and friends visited them in Agodi Custodial Centre. Given the challenges of communication between the inmates and their families and friends, the linkage meant a lot for the inmates, so they do not take it for granted.

// The Christmas party for 1076 inmates and 200 staff of Agodi

JDPC in Parish member with the JDPC director, Fr. Ajakaiye and Sr. Offor after sollicitization of funds for the inmates's welfare at St. Kizito parish in commemoration of the priestly anniversary of the Emeritus Bishop, Alaba Job was joyful and glorious for the Agodi inmates, the staff, and everyone who participated in the celebration. We remain ever so grateful to all those who contributed towards the Celebration of the Christmas party.

// The initiation of the formation of the JDPC friends and partners was a key event that coloured the fund raising for the inmates Christmas party. The number of those who indicated to become friends and partner of JDPC was amazing.

+ Collaboration: Inmate's Welfare

We appreciate the efforts of individuals and groups who collaborated with us to meet the welfare needs of the inmates. They include; (a) Fr. Wilfred Kouijzer SMA and his brothers and Fr. Ifeanyi CSSR, Fr. Kingsley Okereke, Schoenstart Priest who were always available and officiated the Eucharistic celebrations for the inmates. (b) The Prison Fellowship of Nigeria PFN whose intervention has aided the release of some inmates.

Assistance of Indigent Persons

- We appreciate the support of some individuals and groups who assisted us financially and materially to reach out to 170 indigent persons during the year 2022. The promoters through the training were equipped with all the skills needed for taking up issues of Justice, development and peace in Catholic Archdiocese of Ibadan and beyond. The cases below were successfully handled by the promoters.

- Case work intervention of an abducted child from Togo who was exposed to forced labour without pay. The JDPC promoters from St. Leos Catholic church Orita Challenge handled the case. They made all the necessary requirements, including some paper work, tracing of her family and subsequently sent her back to her family who thought she was dead.

- Case work intervention in the case of a 10 years old child who was abused by a 46 years old man. The child was taken for medical checkup. The case was reported to the police and other necessary actions have been taken.

- Family Conflict Intervention: Among the family conflict reconciliations conducted during the year 2022, one family has moved beyond their unhealthy rancor because they are better equipped to handle conflicts positively. In her words, "things are much better now than before." The election and voter education saw a new dimension as the JDPC-P St. Anthony Igboora, took the awareness campaign to the radio, by producing and airing election jingles. The airing of radio jingles was a useful means of getting the message closer to the people.

AWARENESS CAMPAIGN AGAINST HUMAN TRAFFICKING IN OYO STATE

The message of the evil of human trafficking reached the wider population in Oyo State, specifically targeted at eleven Local Government Areas (LGA). They are: Ona Ara, Oluyole, Ibadan North, Ibadan South East, Akinyele, Ogbomoso North, Ibarapa Central, Ibarapa North, Lagelu, Saki West and Atisbo.

+ Consultative visits and meeting

We consulted and had meetings with 288 key stakeholders, the gate keepers in the 11 LGAs, (including people living with disability) which made the awareness creation in the LGAs achievable. Gaining access into the community was much easier through their support.

+ Networking and collaboration

This strategy was adopted as a sure way of breaking the strong chain of human traffickers' network. Hence, we keenly visited and collaborated with the following agencies of the project: Ministry of Women Affairs and Social Inclusion (MWA), National Agency for prohibition of trafficking in persons (NAPTIP), the Nigerian Police Force, Ministry of Education, Nigeria Immigration Services (NIS), the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC), the Nigeria Security and Civil Defence Corps (NSCDC). We appreciate their support thus far.

+ Training of Trainers

202 participants from the 11 LGAs were trained on the issues of human trafficking. The training took place in four batches, one at Ibarapa central and North. Two batches in JDPC Ibadan and one in Atisbo. Out of the 202 participants, 179 of them stepped down the training in their communities. We are hopeful that with the knowledge gained from the training, the awareness on the issues of human trafficking will widely spread among the Oyo populace and yield a positive result

+ Market and street rallies

The participants of the training of trainers together with JDPC staff took the awareness campaign to the following markets; Saki West market, Ojo market, Igboora main market, Bodija market and Oja Oba Market. Thus, reaching the people at the grassroots.

+ Other Networking / Collaboration

// It was a good experience to be part of those that drafted the action plan for the Oyo State Taskforce on human trafficking in April, 2022. Hopefully, the plan when fully utilized will help reduce the incidences of human trafficking in Oyo State.

// We participated at a training on Smuggling of Migrants organized by Nigeria Immigration Service on 10th November, 2022. It was a crucial learning experience for our Human trafficking project.

// Working very closely with Mr. Augustine Akanya, the Coordinator of the National Agency for the Prohibition of Trafficking in Person (NAPTIP) Oyo State, Pastor Marcus Williams, the Chairman of Oyo State Rapid response Team on gender base violence, the Nigeria Immigration Services, the Nigeria Security and Civil Defence Corp and the Nigeria police and Oluwakemi Ademola-Aremu (Comrade Kaytee) in the implementation of the Human Trafficking awareness campaign was a worthwhile experience.

WOMEN ENVIRONMENTAL AND CLIMATE CHANGE PROJECT

The promotion and care of the environment was of paramount importance to us. Hence, we took the Women Environmental and Climate Change Project to Ibarapa North. OTHER OUTSTANDING HIGHLIGHTS OF CARITAS PROGRAMME INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING:

- We made our presence felt at the Ibadan Archdiocesan Synod of Synodality Meeting, attended by participants from across the 53 parishes in the archdiocese on 3rd March 2022. The Synod on Synodality is a crucial event in the life of the church that encourages listening, dialoguing, and participation in a way that promotes God's Kingdom. The expected result is that concrete actions are taken following the harvest from listening and dialoguing together. We seized the opportunity to emphasize the need for parishes to have the Justice, Development and Peace Committee (JDPC-P) functioning in their parishes because JDPC is a sure concrete action part of the fruits of the synod of synodality.

Trained participant on Environmental issue having group discussion

- We enlightened thirty-four seminarians and 1 priest of the oblates of St. Joseph on the issues of the abuse of minors and vulnerable adults.
- We upgraded our knowledge on trauma Sensitivity which took place in Abuja from 4th to 7th July 2022. The knowledge gained is of great essence as we strive to help our people heal from their varied brokenness.

CHALLENGES

- Limited resources to meet with the general welfare of the inmates and the numerous indigent persons who visit our office seeking support for their basic needs.

CONCLUSION

We are deeply grateful to God and to those who through their great support made our work possible. We are never complacent, because a lot more can be done for the people of God. We face the future gallantly trusting in God who strengthens us and in whom we can do all things. The work of God continues!

COMMUNITY SERVICE PROGRAMME

The Community Service as an Alternative to imprisonment programme of The Justice, Development and Peace Commission (JDPC) Ibadan is focused on improving the efficiency, effectiveness and humaneness of Nigeria’s criminal justice system by promoting community service as an alternative form of punishment for minor offences as opposed to incarceration.

The programme which commenced in 2012 was created as a result of the need to contribute to the decongestion of Prisons (Now known as correctional centers) in Oyo State. This is achieved with the help of MISEREOR as its major funding donor.

As a result of the intervention of Justice, Development and Peace Commission Ibadan, the following have been achieved:

952 Offenders Undergo Non-Custodial Sentencing

Nine hundred and fifty-two (952) offenders of minor offences have been sentenced to community service across all the magisterial districts in the state in the last four years. This has considerably stemmed the influx of offenders sentenced to prison custody upon conviction; thus, resulting in reduction of prison congestion. In other words, the aforementioned 952 offenders would have contributed to the congestion of Agodi and Abolongo Correctional Centres if there was no option of community service punishment.

Judiciary Supports

Oyo State Judiciary owning community service scheme

To consolidate the community service scheme in Oyo state, the Honorable Chief Judge of Oyo State has approved the use of a Mass transit belonging to the Oyo State Judiciary to convey offenders sentenced to community service punishment to placement centers beyond court premises.

This development has helped to solve the logistics challenges faced by the community service scheme to convey sentenced offenders to serve their punishment to places outside the court premises. It also, enables the courts to sentence offenders to serve their punishment in locations outside the court premises.

It also serves as a publicity tool for the Community Service Punishment Scheme of Oyo State and also helps the members of the society to know that there is another form of punishment that is non-custodial.

JUSTICE, DEVELOPMENT AND PEACE CENTRE

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

We have audited the financial statements of Justice, Development and Peace Centre, which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2022, and the statement of Comprehensive Income and profit or loss, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, comprising significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, as set out on pages 54 to 61

Opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Centre as at 31 December 2022, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) and in the manner required by the Companies and Allied Matters Act, 2020 and the Financial Reporting Council of Nigeria Act, 2011.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Nigeria, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgments, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the Financial Statements

The Directors are responsible for the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs and in the manner required by the Companies and Allied Matters Act, 2020 and the Financial Reporting Council of Nigeria Act, 2011 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Website: www.kocinternational.com

E-mail: kocinternational@yahoo.com, kayocinternational@gmail.com

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Centre's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Centre to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- We communicate with the Trustees regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
- We also provide Trustees with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and also communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.
- From the matters communicated with Trustees, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

In Compliance with the requirements of the Companies and Allied Matters Act, 2020, Laws of the Federation of Nigeria.

In our opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Centre, so far as appears from our examination of those books and the Centre's statement of financial position and statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income are in agreement with the books of account.
